

A close-up photograph of a flowering plant, identified as Scopia Double Bacopa. The image is filled with numerous light purple, double-petaled flowers. The petals are ruffled and layered, giving them a full, rounded appearance. The flowers are interspersed with bright green, lobed leaves that have a slightly serrated edge. Some small, unopened flower buds are visible among the leaves. The overall composition is a dense, textured mass of flowers and foliage.

Scopia® Double BACOPA

Masses Of Double Flowers!