This statement is made on behalf of the board of Ball Colegrave Limited with regards to the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We are a horticultural company providing young plants and seed to the UK.

The company acknowledges responsibility from within its own business and that from within its supply chains, to ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of products and services to the organisation.

We are committed to ensuring there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in any part of our own business or in our supply chains. Our Anti-slavery policy reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and to enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place anywhere in our supply chains.

The company will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking. A zero tolerance approach will be reinforced to all those in our supply chain and we expect all those in our supply chain and contractors to comply with our values. Our suppliers abide by various accreditation schemes.

To provide a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we make relevant members of the team who are involved in the procurement process aware of our commitment.

Our employees are encouraged to identify and report any potential breaches of our anti-slavery policy through the whistle-blowers process.
